

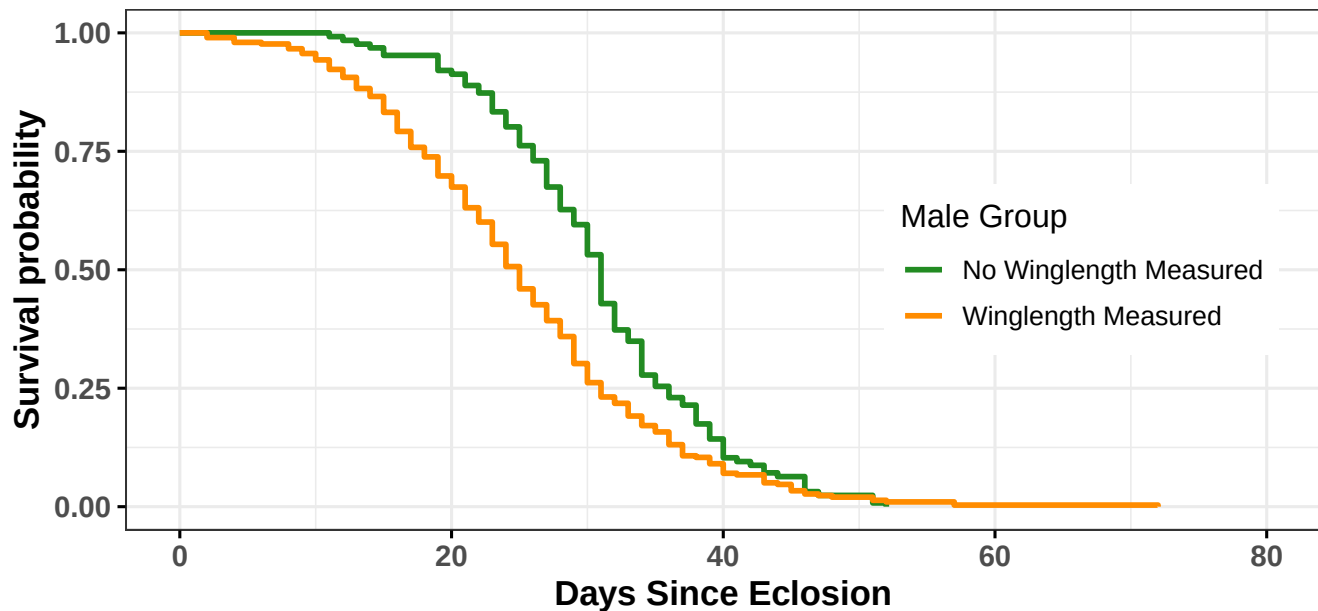

Figure 3: Survival curve comparing males with wing-length measurements to those where wing-length was not capable of being measured. The males missing wing-length data had greater survival than those with wing length data ($p = 7.42 \times 10^{-5}$).